Rhode Islanders Invited to Share Input, Ideas for Creation of Statewide Nonprofit Resource Center

Design Team working with United Way leading upcoming input and visioning sessions

Providence, RI (May 20, 2022) — The Design Team working with United Way of Rhode Island to create a vision and plan for a statewide Nonprofit Resource Center is seeking input and ideas from the community to help guide what the center could offer. The first virtual session will look at current nonprofit capacity, followed by a number of visioning sessions focused on transforming strategies to strengthen nonprofits.

The first public input session will be held on Tuesday, May 24 from 8:30 – 10 a.m., with preregistration available online. Then United Way will be offering multiple visioning sessions, each structured the same, so that people may attend their preferred date and time: Tuesday, May 24 at 1 p.m., Monday, June 6 at 2:30 p.m., Thursday, June 9 at 9 a.m., Monday, June 13 at 2 p.m., and Tuesday, June 14 at noon. All sessions are 90 minutes and will be held via Zoom. They are open to nonprofit staff, board members, volunteers, donors, and community members. Anyone who wants to offer feedback on the types of supports a resource center could provide is invited to participate in one session.

Conversations during these sessions will build off focus groups and interviews conducted earlier this month, and will help the Design Team prioritize what the center may offer Rhode Island nonprofits. Community members are also invited to share ideas and questions for the team through an online portal.

The Design Team consists of 11 local nonprofit leaders and is being supported by Community Wealth Partners, a consulting firm with extensive experience in this type of work. The team is playing a vital role in accessing the vision for the Nonprofit Resource Center, engaging with the community, and responding to research to inform how the center will be structured, staffed, and funded. At the end of its work, the team will shape a recommendation to United Way.

Once established, a Nonprofit Resource Center will be able to serve the Ocean State's entire nonprofit ecosystem. Where the effort is being designed to be inclusive and accessible for all social impact organizations, there is particular commitment to centering the voices and profiles of BIPOC-led, and small and midsize nonprofits.

Members of the community with questions about the virtual sessions or the Design Team may contact Lori Bartosik of Community Wealth Partners at lrbartos@communitywealth.com.
